

Our philosophy

Curtains up on two unique hotels

We believe we are ideally located at the heart of culture, entertainment and business. This is reflected in the design and variety of what we offer. Indeed, we like to concentrate on achieving a creative score as regards the composition of our offerings and services.

Hospitality for an enthusiastic public

All our guests enjoy front-row seats. We make them feel special with warm hospitality, and surprise them with exclusive overtures and extras. We hope the cognoscenti will talk of us as an insider tip.

Our staff are familiar with our demanding script

Memorable productions depend on professional performers who are sufficiently motivated and skilled to play a wide variety of roles. We keep our employees updated about our goals and processes, so they know exactly what we want to achieve. Training, motivation, a good salary level and recognition of special achievements are all part of our managerial style.

Aria, duet or choir

We are virtuoso communicators. Classical, full of emotion, perhaps even slightly crazy on occasions. We attach great importance to dialogue. And we are good listeners if you want to talk to us about a promising partnership.

Financially viable performances

We are passionate about innovation, but achieving or exceeding our financial goals remains our top priority. Backed by an orchestra capable of playing all registers, from the quietest chords to fortissimo first-class financial results.

Suppliers are our stage builders

Our suppliers are one of the keys to our success. To ensure our guests enjoy first-class quality and all the benefits of a premium location at attractive prices, we negotiate fairly with our partners with the goal of obtaining the best possible terms.

The environment – a precious backdrop brimful with life

We bring all our skills and passion to bear on preserving an intact environment – here, too, we always give of our best.
